Adjustment on City Hall Fire Is Inadequate

Common Council Rejects Offer of Adjusting Damage for $47,883.70 Which is $52,316.30 Less Than Amount of Insurance Carried.—Commission to Report Again on Restoration.

The common council, meeting in special session Monday evening at the Municipal Building, adopted a resolution that Mayor E. J. Dempsey be authorized to decline an adjustment of the fire damage to the city hall for the sum of $47,883.70 and was authorized to arrange for an appraisal in accordance with the provisions of the policies of insurance. The resolution was unanimously adopted after City Clerk A. Styles had read a report from the special hall commission advising that the total amount of insurance carried on the city hall was $80,200 and the highest offer of adjustment of the damage as made by the insurance companies was $47,883.70, or $52,316.30 less than the full amount of the policies.

To Appoint Appraiser. Mayor Dempsey, who was present at the meeting, informed the aldermen that the next step was for the city to ask for an appraisal, which meant that the mayor would appoint an appraiser, the insurance companies would appoint an appraiser and that the two appraisers would appoint a referee and go over the matter thoroughly. The mayor said he expected the appraisal to be completed this week and as soon as it was completed and figures checked up he would call another special meeting of the council to take action on the report.

In regard to what would be done with the city hall, the mayor said at the commission was at work and would shortly submit a sketch of what they thought should be done, and that a further report would be made shortly.

City Hall Report. The report of the special city hall commission to the council Monday morning follows:

The undersigned, appointed as commission for the purpose of acting as an advisory capacity, with reference to the adjustment of the fire damage growing out of the damage to the city hall, and for other purposes, do hereby report in part as follows:

We have held four meetings, at each of which the mayor and corporation counsel were in attendance, and in addition thereto we have on two occasions met and conferred with representatives of the insurance companies at the city hall.

The total building insurance is $80,200. The highest offer of adjustment of the damage to the building, as made by the insurance representatives, is $47,883.70.

After careful examination of the building, study of the plans and careful checking of the damage, it is our opinion that the adjustment suggested is inadequate, and should be accepted.

We recommend that the mayor be authorized to arrange for an appraisal under the terms of the policy in the event that such an arrangement cannot be made, take such action as, in his judgment, may be advisable.

At an early date a further report will be made relative to the restoration of the building, in the opinion of the commission, that is proper course to pursue.

The report was signed by F. J. R. Burke, George E. Lowe, Gerard W. Teller and Myron S. Teller. The council then adjourned.

Los Angeles, Aug. 2 (AP).—Receivership proceedings that three of the Julian Petroleum Corporation to the courts did not involve C. C. Julian, chairman and first president of the corporation.

Miss McPherson Has Full Control

Los Angeles, Aug. 2 (AP).—Alma McPherson took full control of her Angelus Temple today as the result of an agreement announced last night in which Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, her mother, relinquished the business management of the church and the two women publicly kissed and made up to end their differences.

The settlement, announced by attorneys for both after a two-hour conference, apparently ended a 10-day row between mother and daughter in which the latter had been backed by a group of temple members who rebelled against Mrs. Kennedy's control of finances.

During the row Mrs. Kennedy had said she was resigning immediately, while her daughter announced in an ultimatum that Mrs. Kennedy was ousted. The latter charged that her daughter had refused to speak to her again except through her lawyers, and then Mrs. Kennedy declared she would withdraw only upon a fifty-fifty division of holdings valued at approximately $100,000, which was not part of the temple property.

Japan Proposes New Compromise

Makes Last Supreme Effort to Save Naval Conference—Details of Plan Kept Secret—U. S. Delegates Call on Japanese—Japanese Also Present Proposal to English.

Geneva, Aug. 2 (AP).—Japan has made a last supreme effort to save the Tripartite Naval Conference. After failing in their first attempt to find any formula which held the possibility of giving satisfaction, Admiral Saito and Viscount Ishii today visited Hugh S. Gibson, chief American delegate, and handed him the text of a compromise project concerning cruisers.

The project is provisional in nature but designed to prevent the wrecking of the conference on this outstanding difficulty.

Secrecy was maintained by both delegates concerning the exact nature of the projected compromise, but the Associated Press learns that it provides that Great Britain and Japan shall cease building cruisers when they reach the end of their present authorized programs, and that up to 1931 the number of 10,000 ton cruisers shall be limited to twelve for Great Britain and the United States and eight for Japan.

Later in the day Mr. Gibson and Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, U. S. N., returned the visit of the Japanese statesmen. It had been expected that they would be able to present their different views on the Japanese suggestion, but they were obliged to report that they needed more time to examine the project and prepare the counter-proposition which the Japanese fully expect to receive from the Americans, as they deem their draft scheme purely tentative in form and substance.

Immediately after the departure of the American delegates Admiral Saito and Viscount Ishii called upon W. C. Bridgman first lord of the admiralty, one of the chief members of the British delegation and tendered him a copy of the plan previously handed to Mr. Gibson.

Suggest a United States of Europe

Madrid Press Suggests Such an Organization Disassociated From the League of Nations—Would Create an International Tribunal and an International Army.

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP).—Suggestions in the Madrid press for a United States of Europe, disassociated from the League of Nations, and pledged to eternal peace maintained by means of an international army, have been drawn to public attention here by the Spanish Embassy.

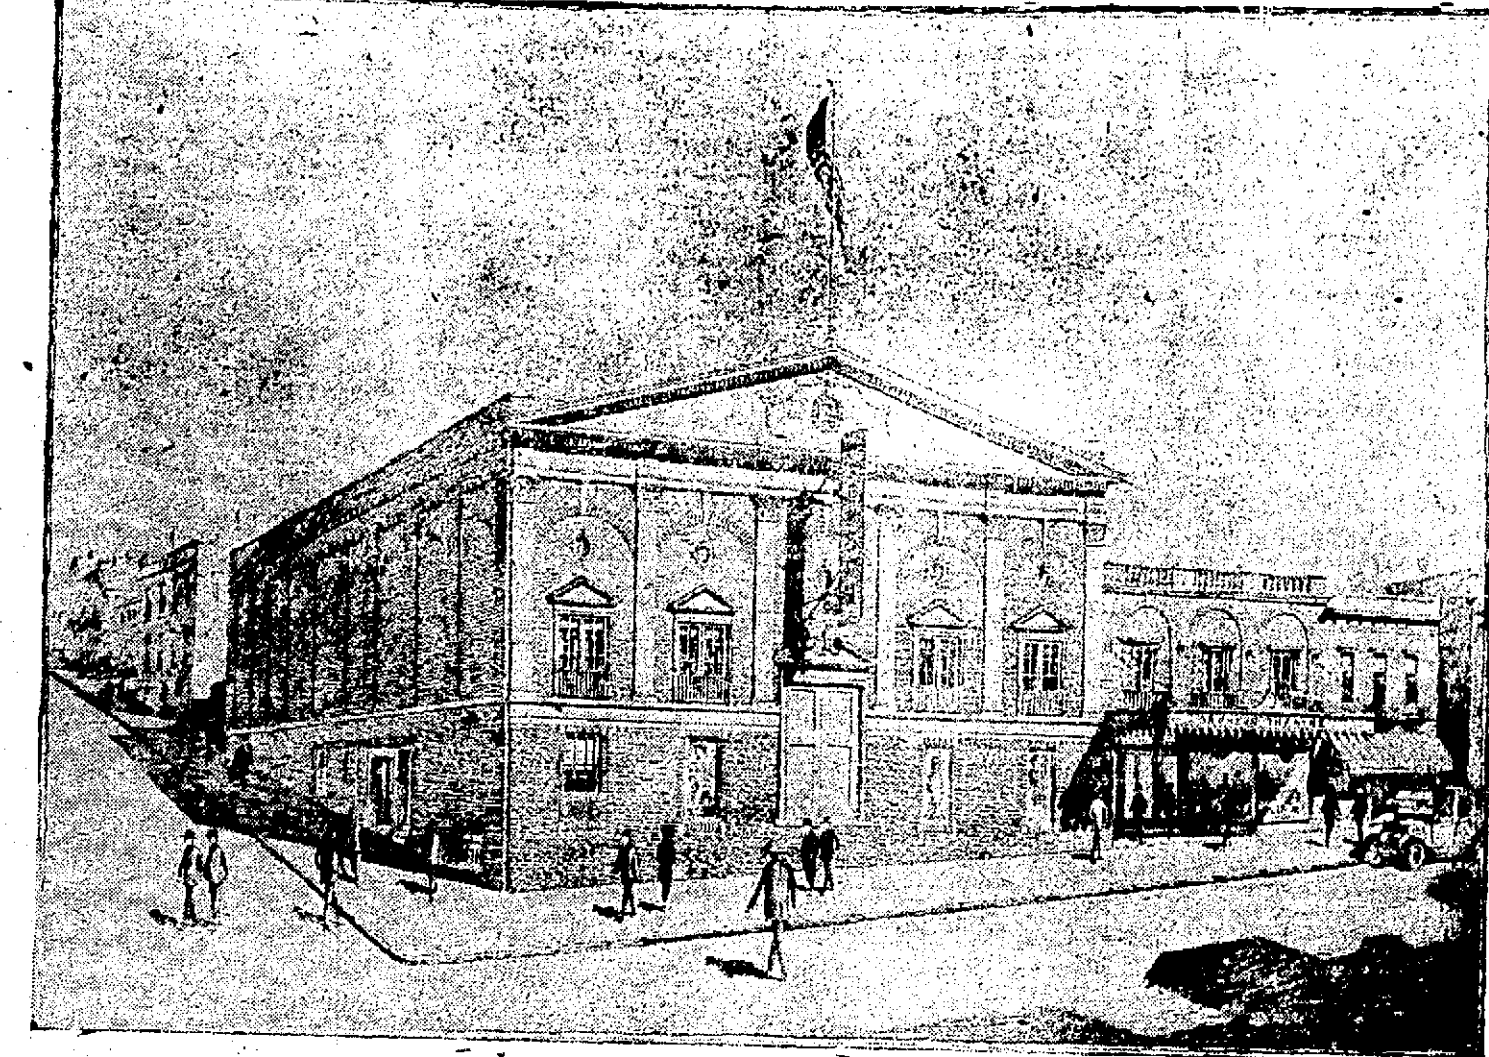

Spain's withdrawal from the League of Nations, Embassy officials remarked, determined the Spanish government's interest in the proposition. The suggestion was first made in an unsigned full page article in a Madrid government organ and copies were forwarded to the Washington Embassy by the Spanish Foreign Office with instruction to have the suggestion "published in the principal newspapers" here as a matter of world interest.

The proposal calls for the establishment of an international tribunal composed of one representative and one substitute from every European country. Assisted by committees, this tribunal would pass unappealable decisions upon every question which might give rise to violent conflict including colonial cases.

The decisions would be enforced by united action of all countries against eventual rebels utilizing as first recourse means economic and diplomatic boycott. Should these measures fail then the international army at the disposal of the tribunal would be called upon.

Lawn Social on Saturday. The Sons and Daughters of Liberty will hold a lawn social at No. 124 Smith avenue on Saturday evening. The public is invited to attend.

How Orpheum Theatre Will Look When Completed

Work on the new Orpheum Theatre building, Broadway and Spring street, which was started June last, is progressing rapidly. Shipments of steel and stone arrived last week and there is a large force of men at work. The building when completed will be a big improvement in that section of the city.

The building is designed in the classic style with rough texture brick and stone trimmings. The Broadway elevation will have French windows directly above the stone waterable with wrought iron balconies and moulded stone head casings.

The plasters supporting the stone pediment are in stone with Corinthian caps and bases. The large doors in the center of the building on Broadway are scene doors through which all property is loaded on the stage.

The building is planned with the stage on Broadway. The auditorium floor slopes up with the natural grade of Spring street. The main entrance to the theatre is on Broadway through the adjoining Mauter stock building. A marquette the full width of the building, approximately twenty-nine feet and extending out to the curb, will be constructed over this entrance. A thirty-foot electric sign is to be placed on the building at the corner of Spring street and Broadway which will illuminate this entire section.

New sidewalks are now being laid on both of these streets.

On the right side of the entrance there will be a store with show windows in the outside vestibule and two shop windows in the inside vestibule. The ticket window and manager's office is located in the inside vestibule.

Bronze doors separate the inside vestibule from the theatre lobby and foyer.

The auditorium, which has a seating capacity of 1,000, is reached through an arch of generous width from the foyer. This foyer also affords connection with the retiring room for women and men's smoking room. In the ceiling of the foyer and in the extreme end wall, large leaded glass windows are to be installed. The floor of the foyer and lobby will be in flange tile; the side walls finished in rough texture plaster.

The auditorium is on the ground floor with side exits on Spring street and outside vestibule and rear exit to concrete court leading to Spring street. The interior of the auditorium will have false casement windows set high up in the side walls with wrought iron balconies and flower boxes; rough plastered walls, beam ceiling and stone floor giving the interior a Spanish feeling.

The stage is of ample size to show any of the large productions. All new stage equipment has been purchased including stage scenery and main curtain.

A feature of the theatre will be the installation of a $20,000 "Kilgen Wonder Organ" finished in gold with hidden spotlights. This same type organ was selected as the choice of the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago.

A system of ventilation, which purifies the warm air in winter and produces cold air in summer will be installed.

The management has taken every precaution to care for the comfort and safety of its patrons. For fire protection a sprinkler system will be installed.

The picture booth is located outside the theatre in a fireproof building, thus eliminating one of the great fire hazards.

Ready October 1. The general contractor of the building, L. H. Swenson of Poughkeepsie states the building will be ready for occupancy by October first. The architect of the building is Gerard W. Betz of Kingston.

Plans New Flight To Constantinople. Rene Fonck, French War Ace, Will Attempt 4,500 Mile Hop—"Old Glory" May Be Ready for Flight to Rome by Next Week.

New York, Aug. 2 (AP).—With completion of preliminary tests of the monoplane "Old Glory" for its projected non-stop flight to Rome, plans have been disclosed for another non-stop flight with Constantinople as its objective.

Captain Rene Fonck, French war ace, whose attempted take off on a flight across the Atlantic last September ended in disaster, will attempt the 4,500 mile hop to Constantinople instead of the 3,500 mile flight to Paris.

Indications were that the plane in which Lloyd W. Bertaud and J. D. Hill hope to fly to Rome would be ready by next week, although Bertaud declined to predict when the take off would be made.

Captain Fonck, with Lieutenant L. W. Curtin, U. S. N., plans to start from Roosevelt Field within a few weeks in a Sikorsky plane that is nearing completion in the factory at College Point, N. Y.

Fonck returned here last April, bringing with him two Bristol-Jupiter motors for the plane. Fonck has not made public his proposed destination, but that Constantinople is the goal was revealed by persons close to his backers. Progress on his new plane has reached the stage where test flights will be started next week.

Pittsburgh Daily Papers Combine

Pittsburgh, Aug. 2 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, the only morning newspaper in Pittsburgh through a four-fold consolidation completed yesterday, appeared today at an advanced price of three cents, an increase of one cent over its predecessors, the Pittsburgh Post and the Gazette Times.

The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, the new afternoon combination formed through merger of the Pittsburgh Sun and the Chronicle Telegraph, remained at two cents.

William Randolph Hearst and Paul Block, New York publishers, entered the Pittsburgh newspaper field through seeking readjustment of publishing interests. Mr. Block became the owner of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and Mr. Hearst acquired the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

New York Visited By Severe Storm. Miniature Cloudburst Disrupts Traffic and Causes Heavy Property Damage Throughout New York, New Jersey and New England—No Fatalities Recorded.

New York, Aug. 2 (AP).—An electrical storm of almost cloudburst proportions disrupted traffic and caused severe property damage yesterday throughout New York, New Jersey and into New England.

No fatalities were recorded, although a number of persons were injured by lightning bolts.

In New York city, railroad, subway and street car service was disrupted, subway service north of Times Square being halted three-quarters of an hour due to flooded tracks.

Officials of the Rochester Gas and Electric Company today were seeking the cause of an explosion which during a severe rainstorm last night sent manhole covers in the downtown section spinning in the air and plunged the city and surrounding towns into darkness for almost an hour.

Flames shot skyward for 25 feet from the manhole openings and deadening fumes rolled down East Main street, causing great excitement among pedestrians. Nearly a dozen theatres were thrown into darkness. Ushers with flashlights led the patrons to the street without disorder.

No "Hot Dogs" in Town of Scarsdale

Scarsdale, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP).—This aristocratic Westchester county community today stood victor in the first round of its battle to keep the "hot dog" from within its borders.

Cassius Hittalkin, locally known as "Hot-dog Joe" was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Carter last night for violating the town's new ordinance barring peddlers from public highways. Counsel announced an appeal would be taken.

Cassius had been selling "hot-dogs" in Scarsdale for more than fifteen years, the ordinance was adopted when some citizens complained his delicacies were harmful to digestion of school children.

Coolidge Has Served Four Years. Four Years Ago President Harding Died in Office and Coolidge Became His Successor—Question of Renomination Discussed.

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 2 (AP).—Calvin Coolidge today ends four years as president of the United States to which he succeeded upon the death of President Harding.

One year and seven months remain in the four-year term to which Mr. Coolidge was elected president in the fall of 1924, a little more than a year after he first took office.

In this period it will be decided whether he will or can succeed himself for another elective term of four years which would entitle him to the office of president for a longer period than has been served by any other chief executive of the nation—two regular terms totalling eight years added to the year and seven months of Mr. Harding's term completed by him.

There has been a unanimity of opinion among those here with the President and among national political leaders who have come here this summer that Mr. Coolidge would not stand in the way of a movement to renominate him at the convention of the Republican party next June, but a few of his friends have predicted that he will not be a candidate.

The couple will live on the Relyea farm.

The youthful bride is the daughter of George Booth of Hawley's Corners, about five miles northwest of Highland and the 27-year-old bridegroom is a stone mason of the same place. He had been married previously and has several children now full grown. His first wife died about a year ago.

New Undertaking Firm Downtown

An important business transaction was closed when the firm of Stock & Cordts sold their interest in the undertaking department to the newly organized firm of Jensen & Perry.

This was done that their entire time might be devoted to their rapidly increasing furniture, rug and drapery business, and also due to the fact that more room is needed for contemplated improvements and increased departments which will be added to their already large and attractive establishment, which ranks among the largest and best of the kind in the state.

Learn Jensen, of the new firm, has been with Stock & Cordts for the past fifteen years, while Gerald S. Perry has been in the undertaking business, being located at Clinton street and Franklin street. The new firm will have their place of business at 32 Broadway.

Chicago Has One More Air Tragedy. Second Hand, Unlicensed Airplane Takes Nose Dive and Kills Two Persons—Third Accident in Chicago in Eight Days.

Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP).—A second hand, unlicensed airplane, nose diving to the ground and killing two persons, yesterday, brought to a climax an unprecedented eight days of air tragedies in Chicago.

The accident was the third in the eight-day period, and brought the number of deaths to seven.

The victims, William Quase and Dohn Hubby, died in almost the same manner that two of the others were killed last Saturday. Their plane went out of control while less than 300 feet up, and nose-dived in a crash which brought instant death.

The first three victims of the recent accidents were killed a week ago when their plane went into a dive, caught fire and fell, burning two of the fliers caught in the wreckage. The third crawled free but died from injuries.

Fuller Completes Vanzetti Inquiry

A Few Witnesses, Unimportant to the Case, Are All That Remain to Be Heard—Summons Judge Thayer From Maine—Will Announce Decision Wednesday Night.

Boston, Aug. 2 (AP).—A few last witnesses, described as unimportant to the case, were all that remained today between Governor Alvan T. Fuller and the decision he has promised Wednesday which may mean life or death to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, world known radicals under sentence of death at Charlestown state prison for a double murder committed seven years ago.

The decision which he will make tomorrow and which, if favorable to the condemned men, he will submit to his executive council for approval, will bring to an end an inquiry into a capital proceeding that probably is without parallel in this state.

For more than six weeks the governor has been interviewing witnesses, jurors and others having knowledge of the celebrated case which through seven years of bitterly contested litigation has stirred interest in every quarter of the globe.

The investigation which has included two visits to the prisoners in the state prison where they are awaiting execution, scheduled for the week of August 10, was virtually climaxed last night by a conference which lasted nearly three hours with Judge Webster Thayer, who presided at the trial.

Thayer was summoned from Maine by the governor and made the trip through a heavy rain storm. After the meeting the superior court jurist withheld comment and departed declining to be interviewed. Judge Thayer twice refused pleas for a retrial and has himself been sharply assailed for his conduct of the case.

Vanzetti for the third consecutive day ate his breakfast and even asked and obtained an extra glass of milk. His strength was said to be rapidly returning after his two weeks of fasting.

South and West Should Combine. Both From an Agricultural and Political Standpoint Says Dr. Charles A. Beard—Comments on McNary-Haugen Bill.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 2 (AP).—An agricultural and political alliance between the south and west as a solution of the farmers' difficulties was advocated before the Institute of Politics today by Dr. Charles A. Beard, economist.

"Personally," said Dr. Beard, addressing a round table discussion of agriculture, "I hope the new confederation may be effected. It would be good for the country and give politics a refreshing tone, even if it made the veterans of 1898 take to their beds in consternation."

Discussing the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, he said the measure "might not improve the lot of the farmer, but might help as much as wearing cowboy breeches and fishing with worms in western waters."

He said he was not passing judgment on the McNary-Haugen bill but said "most of the arguments against it seem to me to apply also to the economic and juridical sections of capitalism."

Department Code Of Peter the Great

Ten Quaint Commandments Unearthed by Which Famous Russian Ruler Impressed Proper Conduct on Aspiring Young Courtiers.

Leninград, Aug. 2 (AP).—Surveys of the official archives of the famous Winter Palace here resulted in the discovery of a novel "Code of Department" by Peter the Great. Intended for young men "who wished to succeed at court and in everyday life," Peter's Code embraces ten quaint commandments, the violation of which rendered the social delinquent liable to banishment from polite society. This is the Decalogue:

Never emulate the rustic boor by getting drunk in the daytime.

In conversation with a group of others, refrain from spitting in the middle of the group; spit to one side of it.

In the church, theatre or other public place avoid blowing the nose loudly, or picking the nose with the finger, or drawing the hand across the mouth, or leaning the elbows upon a table, or allowing the hands to stray, or shuffling the feet, or licking the fingers, or gnawing a bone, or picking the teeth with a knife, or scratching the head, or crunching your victuals like a pig, or speaking with the mouth full.

Don't walk along the street with head bowed forward, eyes cast down, or features attuned to superciliousness. Rather preserve as you advance an air at once cheerful, polite, urbane and firm.

On being introduced to a young acquaintance, doff the hat at a distance of three paces. On passing an old acquaintance, see to it that you don't overlook that acquaintance.

Cultivate courtesy, ease of manner, and the ability to refrain from wrath.

Render yourself nice of speech, well-read, capable of taking part in a conversation without either disclosing the nature of your thoughts, or allowing anyone else to forestall your remarks.

Be free from diffidence and want of initiative.

Acquire foreign languages; master the arts of riding, dancing and fencing.

Refrain from dancing in boots.

If we had the making of the days we'd put some other color in Monday besides blue.

We hope all the athletically inclined girls will have strength enough to do plain house work.

"Well, I'll be damned," said the babbling brook, as the fat lady fell off the bridge into the water.

The world owes no man a living. The debt is the other way. The man owes the world work.

Ananias made a record as a liar but after all he isn't the man who invented the catch phrase "Easy payments."

"Madam, what is the complexion of your new baby, dark or fair?"

"To tell you the truth, he is a little yell."

The strange part is not that nuts fall, but that they fall for so many things.

He (expectantly)—"Give me a kiss, honey?"

She (as they all do icily)—"What for?"

He—"Aw, for me little brother."

Are the girls getting prettier or is our eyesight getting poorer?

Everything considered, including ourselves, none of us has a very hard time of it.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

THERE are a dozen places in building a tire where a little rubber could be saved. An ounce here, another ounce there—but adding up to thousands of pounds in a year's production.

But the car owner can never tell when this skimping is going to cause him trouble. When he pays his money for a tire he wants to be sure it will stand unusual road conditions, and that the strain of sudden braking will not uncover a weak point. He wants to be sure he will get the full mileage to which he is entitled.

U. S. Royal Cords are built with the idea that every man who buys them should get all the mileage that can possibly be built into a tire.

The policy of "Plenty of Rubber" governs every operation in building U. S. Royal Cords. It puts plenty of rubber not only outside, where you can see it—but inside, too, where it does not show but where the strain comes.

"Plenty of Rubber" proves its value in the final test—the service of U. S. Royal Cords on the wheels of your car.

The kind of rubber in United States Tires has so much to do with their long service as the quality. It is Sprayed Rubber—made from latex by a mechanical process invented by the United States Rubber Company—without the use of acids or chemicals. It is the purest, most uniform and strongest rubber known.

Soldiers Enjoy Pine Camp Life

Boys Find Camp Life Gives Them Appetites and Digestions Which Readily Overcome Daily Camp Fare.

Pine Camp, July 30, 1927. The boys at Pine Camp are feeling fine, and all that you can hear from them is it won't be long, as they are counting the days when they will be back in Kingston again. The new recruit was just in my tent when he said: "It won't be long now I won't be happy nor will I be as I am not particular." Very different from a raw recruit.

A few of the boys have been stepping on by the horses but not very often. Some of the boys felt very sad the first day in camp but it soon passed off. Today, Sunday, it is raining and we have to stay in, but the boys do not mind that as they are good rest will put them in good shape for next week when the boys go out for practice with the 75's.

The other day for dinner we had steak, and one of the boys said: "I wonder what they did with the horses up here but I know now from this one they forgot to take his harness, as I just picked a strap out of my mess kit." Some of the boys asked the mess sergeant if he had a file handy as they wanted to sharpen their teeth, and he said no. The battery mechanic had a hammer and chisel he could borrow to try all kinds of ways to make the mess sergeant mad but he didn't mind it as he has been there before.

One of the cooks the other day took on his coat and he found it shrunk so he asked Schultz, who is doing K. P. in the kitchen, to take it to the headquarters and get him a coat stretcher, so he did and all the boys turned out to watch him, but after they kept going from one tent to another soon found out it was a joke and the boys had a good hearty laugh over that.

This morning for breakfast we had prunes, corn flakes, with fresh milk, potatoes, bacon, bread, butter and coffee, which is more than the majority of us eat when we are home. Some of the boys' belts are getting too short, including my own. FREDERICK A. GERHARDT, Supply Sergeant.

Lake Katrine Dance. Paul Zucca's four piece band will furnish the music this evening at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

Women Now Do Own Banking

Courtesy Is Explaining System to Them Is Ample Repaid, Says Bank President, Who Points Out Their Desire to Learn.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP).—In no business or profession has the increasing scope of women's interests during the past two decades been more marked than in banking, according to Frank S. Thomas, first vice-president of the Lincoln Alliance Bank of this city. Mr. Thomas was instrumental in introducing the first women's banking department outside of New York city and the second in the state, some 20 years ago.

Mr. Thomas recalls with a smile a timorous lady of 1907 who, obviously ill at ease, came to a bank under protest, insisted upon seeing the president, waited half an hour for the privilege, and when finally admitted to that august presence, asked the busy gentleman where to endorse a check. The 1927 woman patron walks in with all the confidence of her brothers or husband, does her own banking, checks her own account, counsels with her banker on investments, real estate deals, buying and selling, and seeks a variety of information and advice which she grasps quite as readily as the men.

"The banks have educated the women of this country to do their own banking," said Mr. Thomas. "They have had two motives, first, the volume of business which these accounts bring in, and second, the advertising which the women do for us, the cheapest and most effective advertising in the world."

"In this bank we started the women's department more than 20 years ago. Today we have 15,000 accounts in that department, with deposits last year totalling $12,000,000. We started it by getting out pamphlets, by personally seeing and talking banking to women whom we knew. We gave them their own little bank distinct from the main one, and the accounts were quite separate. Then we made them do the work themselves, make out their deposit slips, check their own accounts and so over their statements."

"They were always treated with the utmost courtesy. Of course, they asked some pretty silly questions, but if any one of us were set down in a dressing establishment and told to buy a frock, I suppose we'd ask silly questions, too. The tellers were told to take special care in explaining banking rules and customs to the women patrons."

"And how the women repaid us! They went out and told their husbands about how kind and considerate and fine we were to them. Pretty soon we had the husband's account, too. And at parties and teas the women talk about such things where men wouldn't mention them. They spread the good word among their friends, and from nothing at all the women's department of this bank grew to be one of its biggest features."

Will Erect an Osborne Memorial

Auburn, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP).—An announcement was made today by Mrs. James J. Storow of Boston, sister of the late Thomas Mott Osborne, that in conjunction with her sister, Mrs. Frederick Harris of Springfield, Mass., there will be established in Auburn a social center fully equipped as a memorial to the late David Munson Osborne, who founded Auburn's largest industry. It will cost $400,000 and will be used for the men and boys of Auburn. The Osborne family had previously erected a similar building for the girls and women of Auburn at a cost of $500,000.

AUTOMOBILE TRADE NOTES AND DOINGS

Contracts have been let for building a $2,000,000 Oldsmobile expansion program. Work will be rushed so that Oldsmobile production can be increased by the first of the year. An increase in net sales of $11,500,000 last year, followed by still greater sales records, and with business mounting to new high levels have made this large expansion advisable. Retail domestic and export sales for the fiscal year ending August 1, show, up to July 20, a record above any previous fiscal year in the history of the company.

"A reduction in price from $2195 to $1495 in the short space of three years for the Chandler Big Six Metropolitan Sedan has been made possible through wide-spread popularity which has in turn reduced manufacturing costs," states Mr. Longenecker, local Chandler dealer, in commenting on the latest $1000 cut which brings this model down to the low price of $1495, f.o.b. factory. "The Metropolitan Sedan was first put on the market by Chandler in 1924 and attained such popularity that the price of $2195 was soon reduced as production increased. Now with sales volume on this model at a new maximum comes a reduction which makes this Metropolitan Sedan $1,495 less in price than when it first appeared."

READY FOR RAID ON ALASKA SEALS

Privateers to Jump Into
Free-for-All Hunting When Treaties Expire.

Seattle, Wash.—Fur traders here and in Alaska are keeping ears to the ground in efforts to get facts on preparations of privateers who expect to jump into the free-for-all fur seal hunting after the seal treaties expire this year, should the nations fail to renew the agreement.

Right now, according to information received here, seal hunters are fitting out boats at Victoria in readiness for the expiration of the covenant. Fur buyers point out that while Japan seems to be anxious to let the agreement lapse, Great Britain will line up with the United States. With this country refusing to recognize the present Russian regime and Japan's indifferent, the question arises: Can two powers agree and be powerful enough to protect the fur seal herds in their migrations on the high seas?

So far as can be learned, Victoria is the only port on the Pacific coast where sealing schooners are actually being fitted. Formerly pelagic sealing meant over a million-dollar annual industry to that city.

U. S. Protection Valuable.

The old sealing fleet was a valuable asset to Victoria in its day but it played havoc among the seals. The herds decreased from 3,000,000 in 1867 to 123,000 in 1911. At the present time the animals number nearly 900,000. The American government has spent $5,000,000 to bring them back to this size. In ten years left unmolested and protected the seals will be as numerous as they have ever been.

the seals continue to multiply the various treaty countries will benefit proportionately, and each party's percentage would represent more money. On the other hand, should the covenant be abandoned, a wild slaughter would ensue in which the United States would have the advantage, as the big rookeries are in its territory. In two years, declare fur traders and mariners of the old school, every seal on the Pribilofs would be killed.

In any case, it is argued, Pacific coast ports will not get a single dollar from resumption of the free slaughter. At the present time seal skins are worth about $20 in the raw salted state. As it will cost at least $15,000 to build and equip a sealing schooner, it seems impossible to conceive how pelagic or free-for-all sealing will pay. It looks like the day of the sealing fleet is gone.

Under the terms of the treaty no signatory nation can withdraw from the agreement without due notice of at least 12 months. As the time limit for such action has long passed it is not believed the countries will again sign up for protection. For 15 years the treaty has banned the sealing industry in north Pacific waters. Inasmuch as all international treaties are within the exclusive jurisdiction of the State department, no statement of policy respecting this matter has ever been obtained from officials of the Department of Commerce or the bureau of fisheries.

Hoover's Attitude.

Secretary Hoover's attitude, however, is well known and has been stated on many occasions without reference to this particular controversy. He is a strong supporter of the government's protection policy and few fur traders here believe that Great Britain would adopt so short-sighted a policy as to precipitate war upon the Pribilof herd and speedy extermination.

Pelagic sealing is notoriously inhuman in view of the fact that careful investigation has demonstrated beyond question that from 60 to 75 per cent of the seals taken on the high seas are females, either carrying their prospective offspring or hunting food to sustain their pups on shore. Thus the killing of each seal by the pelagic hunters involves the death of two animals.

This is not the whole story. The female seals, heavy with young, sink immediately upon being struck and in the opinion of experts pelagic hunters do not recover more than one-third the animals actually slaughtered.

The bureau of fisheries is going ahead this summer in the usual manner, counting the pups and branding the bachelor seals. The usual number of pelts, about 20,000, will come down from the North early in the fall for St. Louis tanners and dyers.

Kansas Anti-Horse Thief

Body After Spooners

Topeka, Kan.—Sixty years of law enforcement behind it, the Anti-Horse Thief association of Kansas will now give its attention to nocturnal "spooners" on country roads.

The association is determined to revive the business of justice of the peace courts in every township of the state. In recent years these courts virtually have ceased to function as courts of preliminary hearing for law violators, the business having passed to the city courts. It is proposed to keep the justices busy through a general clean-up of necking parties.

Each male member of the association is to patrol the by-ways in a given district, with authority to arrest neekers and bring them before the nearest justice of the peace.

MILTON.

Milton, Aug. 1.—The regular meeting of the Ladies' Needlecraft and Women's Missionary Societies will be held at the home of Mrs. Edgar Clarke on Wednesday afternoon, August 3.

The Ladies' Needlecraft Society of the Presbyterian church will hold its annual fair at the home of Mrs. Birchall Taylor on Saturday evening, August 5, beginning at 6 o'clock. Alsdorf's orchestra of Newburgh will furnish the music from 7 to 10 o'clock. There will be booths and tables of fancy articles, aprons, groceries, candies, ice cream, cake, punch and handkerchiefs.

The play, "A Hooded Coon," given last Monday evening by members of Lake Katrine Grange, was largely attended and greatly enjoyed. It was indeed one of the best plays given here in several years.

At the meeting of the Maids' and Matrons' Club last Tuesday evening, Mrs. Herman Sager presented the club with a very handsome frame for the enlarged picture of the Milton Library building, recently given the club by William R. Ordway. The picture was in the frame when Mrs. Sager presented it to the club. Plans for a lawn party have been made by the Maids' and Matrons' Club to be held at the home of Mrs. Herman Sager, August 19. Mrs. Sager was appointed chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. William Lais, Mrs. Buckall Tabel and Mrs. Irene Scott.

Raymond Hepworth of Brooklyn visited at the home of his uncle and aunt on Sands avenue last Wednesday.

Mrs. Emma Young and Mrs. Ogg of Brooklyn are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Perry Woolsey.

Mrs. Edward McManus and daughter, Ellen, attended a dinner and theatre party with Mrs. James Mack of Poughkeepsie last Thursday.

Miss Ida Strohman of New York is visiting her sister, Miss Minnie Strohman.

Mrs. Stephen Hirschfeld of Bremen, Germany, sails on August 5 for America for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Edith Fowler, at her home on Church street. Before her marriage Mrs. Hirschfeld was Miss Louise Skidmore and a former resident of Milton.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

FIRE IN THE WOODS

Sam and Peter were off on a trip of adventures. They were hoping to find buried treasure which they had heard had been hidden long years ago.

They had wandered quite a distance and had had some interesting adventures. They loved the rocky coast along which they traveled and the deep woods back from the coast.

They hoped to reach the harbor and the cove by nightfall. Then they could wander back to the river and sleep, overlooking the very ground where the treasure was to be found.

One of the things about which they were most particular was fire. Never did they leave a fire without thoroughly and even more than thoroughly putting it out.

They always used stones as a foundation for their fires so that it would be easy to put out and would be in no danger of spreading along the ground while it was burning.

It was not very distinct but it was there just the same.

Every time they noticed it they stopped and stamped out the little fires that had started from so much dryness and from some spark carried from a carelessly left fire.

It delayed them, they knew. They were sure that at this rate they would never get to the treasure ground by night. But the woods were not to be neglected.

What if they let those fires go on untouched even if they were small?

The woods might get really alive and hot and they would feel it very soon afterward of terrible forest fires that they knew they had been too selfish to stop and put out.

So they spent a good deal of time, stopping fairly often.

Toward dusk they made quicker progress. There was no smell of burning woods now and they went along briskly.

"We can stop really early tonight and get to sleep so we won't sleep so long tomorrow as we did today. Then we can get up at daylight and perhaps make our place during the morning," Peter suggested.

"We might have supper in about a half an hour and then stop for the night. What about that idea?" Sam asked.

"Good one," Peter agreed. So they walked along.

"It seems to me I smell that burning again," Sam said after a few minutes had passed.

"I think we imagine we smell it now after so many experiences this afternoon," Peter replied. "I don't really think I smell it. Well, there are lots of lakes in this section right along here so there wouldn't be so much danger in their getting any headway."

"Yes," agreed Sam, "but the lakes are surrounded by woods and the trees could just sweep around them."

"You're mighty cheerful!"

"I do smell burning woods—more than at any time this afternoon."

"I'm sure I don't imagine it."

"You're right, I smell 'em, too."

"You're right, I smell 'em, too."

"There's a bad fire here," Sam said. "And those little places this afternoon were started by sparks from it."

They went in the direction of the smoke. The woods around were cracking and now the smoke became dense and thick.

"Had we better run for our lives or see what we can do ourselves?" They stopped and Sam asked.

"The nearest place is the cove and that must be fifteen miles away," Peter answered. "We'd better see what we can do ourselves and get it underway. There are the lakes, but what is the world we are going to do about getting the water on the woods?"

It became quickly very dark. Sam said: "It was not so late as the darkness would indicate. And the country is becoming quite black. There's going to be a shower to help us put it out," Sam said, brightly.

The sweet qualities of our nature, like the bloom on fruits, can be preserved only by the most delicate handling. Yet we do not treat ourselves nor one another thus tenderly.—David Thoreau.

SPRING FOODS

In the spring the housewife's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of something that the family can eat and enjoy. If one has access to a trench of parsnips, that is one dish that most families will enjoy once or twice a week. One of the very best possible ways of cooking parsnips, which keeps in all of the detail, is as follows:

Scrape them and wash well, then cut into quarters lengthwise, then again, leaving them about finger-length or a bit shorter and of uniform thickness. Put them fresh from the water in which they have been washed, without any moisture other than that clinging to the vegetable, into a heavy saucepan with enough butter to thoroughly season, stir often for a while until all the pieces have been well buttered, then simmer for an hour on the back of the stove, stirring occasionally. Cooked in this way parsnips become one of the families' favorite vegetables. Many like them cooked whole in water, then scraped and cut into halves and fried in pork fat. These are good, but lack the flavor that the other method has.

Color is another important item in food combinations. One must have an eye for color, not combining the red of beets with the orange of carrot; beet with the yellow of egg yolk is a good combination.

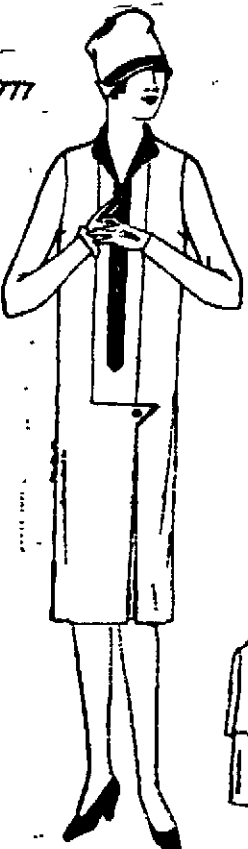

All salad should have some element in its composition which is crisp; a salad of cheese, canned pimientos and cooked asparagus tastes good as to flavor, but lacks that crunching goodness which we all enjoy. This is supplied in tender, crisp celery, nuts or pineapple, or juicy crisp apple.

Another point to be remembered in preparing salad, if it is to be a cabbage salad, let it taste like cabbage. The secret of maintaining the dominant flavor of any dish is to keep that food in mind and not let any stronger flavor subdue or disguise the main food. This idea is one as important with other foods, let your taste like real, not something disguised as mock chicken.

Three Games for Colonial Nine

This evening at Stamford the Colonials will again take on the Cooperstown outfit.

Wednesday the locals will again be at the Stamford diamond when they oppose the Schenectady Police team.

Thursday the Colonials will make their first trip of the season to Poughkeepsie, where they will meet a Bridge City nine, which is being formed by Chet Mueller.

"Pat" Coutant, Eddie Phelan and Foxey Kaman are listed as pitchers for the Poughkeepsie club. The selection of the local pitcher will be made Thursday but it is expected Coutant will start the contest.

For the backstop duties, Mueller has secured Clarence Loebe and Harold "Nook" Sullivan. Loebe plays with the Separators in the Twilight League while Sullivan is a member of the Dodgers.

For filling the infield positions, Mueller has "Swat" Russell, Nelson Dewey, Leo Ratka, Harold Shorter, Joe Gunn and Percy West to draw from. Russell, Dewey and Gunn are members of the league's leading Dodgers while Ratka plays with the Emeralds. Shorter is a DeLaval man and West comes from the Mohawks.

Freddie Dahn and Dabhusky have been named to fill two of the garden berths with Phelan or Kaman filling the other, in case they are not called on to pitch.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

The Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates have traded places in the National League standing once more.

The Cubs moved into the leadership position yesterday by defeating Philadelphia, 6-5, while the Boston Braves staged an eleventh inning rally to waylay the Pirates, 4-1.

The polite maneuvering of the leaders appears to be encountering a new element of danger at this stage, however, for the New York Giants took their third straight from the Cardinals at St. Louis, 6-3, and are now only five and one-half games out of first place.

McGraw's club has won five of its last six games on the road and may make serious trouble over the championship before the season ends, two months from today.

Home runs by Bill Terry and George Harper routed the Cards. Terry hit for the circuit twice. Between them the pair drove in five runs. Phil Rhee, back in the St. Louis fold after a disciplinary setback, was driven out in three innings.

Brillheart had Philadelphia under control until the eighth, when he weakened and was driven out, but Chicago tied the score at five all in their half of the inning and won out in the ninth. Webb hit a home run.

Pittsburgh and Boston were deadlocked, 1-1, at the end of the ninth. Andy High's triple in the 11th put the skills under the Buccaneers.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati fought it out for temporary occupancy of fifth place and the Dodgers came through with a 2-1 decision. Dazzy Vance held the Reds to five hits, the same number the Robins collected from Eppa Rixey and Beckman, a recit.

Cleveland defeated the New York Yankees in the only game played in the American League. The teams were scheduled to play a double header but rain intervened after five and one-half innings of the first game had elapsed. The Indians won by a 2-1 score, making both tallies off Herb Pennock in the sixth. Ruth went hitless in two times at bat and Gehrig collected a single in two trips to the plate.

Cardinals to Cause Much Grief in 1927

St. Louis will cause a great deal of grief in the National before the season is over.

The Cardinals continue a good ball team and Bob O'Farrell is a good manager.

O'Farrell is possessed of the same quality of leadership that distinguishes Bush and McCarthy. He is a diplomat.

When O'Farrell is working behind the plate, the Cardinals are 20 per cent stronger than when O'Farrell is managing from the bench. A manager who is also a catcher has an advantage that comes in his work with the pitcher. Also, he holds the strategic position of the playing field. Backed by managerial authority he stands in the spot where he can best control the play.

As long as O'Farrell can be in the lineup the Cardinals will be a mighty hard team to stop, writes H. G. Salsinger in the Detroit News.

The National league pennant seems destined to come West again this year, Pittsburgh being classed as a western team.

McLOUGHLIN PUT SPEED IN TENNIS

Tilden's Style Causes Many to Credit Him.

J. P. Allen says that there has been so much discussion about Big Bill Tilden's employment of speed, a weapon he appears to have been using unsteadily in Europe, that an impression has grown up that Tilden is responsible for putting the lightning strokes in the game. That impression cannot be credited to the tall Pennsylvanian.

The amazing speed in lawn tennis, speed which has made it necessary to change completely the method of racket construction, was entirely due to the advent of the Californians, chiefly of Maurice E. McLoughlin in the national championship tournament on the turf of the Casino at Newport, R. I., in August, 1900.

The entry list was as stale as dishwater. And as for Californians, there was a little group of four players—McLoughlin, Thomas C. Bundy, Melville E. Long and Simpson Sinebaugh.

With a somewhat drab tournament forecast, there was no end of amazement when McLoughlin let loose his devastating speed. New as he was to grass, the red-haired youth, who was afterward to win the name of "the Cornia Comet" in Australia, literally cut opponents to pieces. Right at the beginning there were two elements that carried McLoughlin along as if on the crest of a tidal wave. First, his terrific service—a service which Tilden as a youth watched and studied and which he now employs most ably—and the wonderful ability to get up to the net to smash the return.

McFarland Likes Races

Packey McFarland, once the light-weight boxing idol of the Chicago stockyards district, is trying to prove that prize ring heroes can be successful horse owners. Young Corbett, Terry McGovern, Johnny Dundee and others tried it, but wound up owing themselves money. Packey is campaigning races under the name of the Jolly Stakes. One of his thoroughbreds is Captain Dolan, Kentucky Derby candidate in 1925. McFarland quit the ring years ago with a neat income and has since added to it.

Poor Man's Sport

Track athletics, especially distance running, is the poor man's sport. He needs only his shoes, his cheap running suit, and a place to stretch a leg. Most distance men have no trainers, and must prepare themselves all they can using a regulation. They usually work hard all day, either in shops or at desks, and must perform under their leisure hours for training. —Berthel Reed in the Outlook.

Colonials Down Cooperstown, 6-1

Smith, Hobbs and Culliton Lead Local Attack on Cooperstown—Winston Starts in Box and Yields Later to Culliton.

Art Smith, Jack Robins and Bud Culliton led the Colonial hitters in their attack upon Cooperstown Monday and after the smoke cleared away, the home town team was submerged 6 to 1.

Blodgett, former Oneonta pitcher, was on the mound for the losers and he was found for thirteen safe smashes. Smith and Robins had three each and Culliton had two, which included a homer.

Bunching their hits in the fifth and sixth innings, the locals put the game in their bat bags, tallying three times in each inning. The home club made their lone tally in the fifth.

Winston was on the mound for the Colonials until the seventh, when things began to look bad and Culliton relieved him.

Dempsey Objects To September 15

Says He Will Not Be Ready to Fight Tunney on That Date—Wants Fight on September 22 or 20—Rickard Refuses to Become Excited Over Situation.

Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP).—A threatening monkey wrench, tossed from Los Angeles to Chicago, ricocheted harmlessly off the championship fight machinery of Tex Rickard early today without leaving even a dent.

Jack Dempsey did the tossing, his missile being a statement that he could not possibly be ready to meet Gene Tunney in their 10-round heavyweight title match at Soldier Field here September 15—the date Rickard had set.

Three minutes after Dempsey's statement had been received here, Rickard assured newspapermen that there would be no dispute over the date; that he knew all about Dempsey's attitude and that everything was all right.

"I won't be ready until September 22 at the earliest," said Dempsey in Los Angeles, "and I would rather have September 29 as the date."

To which Rickard replied: "It makes no difference to me. I chose September 15 merely to permit George Getz, my Chicago ally, to get away September 21 on a trip to Africa he had planned. However, he is willing to stay over and help me out on September 22 if necessary, and so we probably will stage the fight on that date."

Dempsey's objection to the September 15 date was that his wife, Estelle Taylor, is ill, her condition being such that her physicians have advised her not to attempt the trip to Chicago for another 10 days or two weeks.

Rickard said there is nothing on his contract to compel Dempsey to fight Tunney September 15. He added, however, that he is confident Dempsey will withdraw his objection to that date after the situation has been explained to him. Rickard expected to communicate with Dempsey by telephone during the day.

No More Regular Turns for Johnson

Big Train Tells Associated Press Correspondent That He Never Expects to Take Regular Turn in Pitcher's Box Again—Says Injury He Received This Year Took Something Out of Him.

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP).—Walter Johnson never expects to take his regular turn in the pitcher's box again.

After twenty years of campaigning, the Big Train has decided that he no longer can be counted upon to pitch turn in and turn out, but is satisfied that he still has a number of winning games left in his right arm, which had hurled more baseball past batters than any other the game has ever known.

"I can't go out there and throw that ball over like I used to," Johnson told an Associated Press correspondent. "But with proper care and rest I think I can go in and win a game now and then."

Leaning forward across the front rail of a deserted grandstand at Griffith Stadium, Walter fixed his gaze on the broad field where he had scored so many of his triumphs.

"You know," he said after a pause, "the injury I received this year hurt me a whole lot. It would not have made so much difference with a young fellow, but I am getting along and it took something out of me."

Walter is undecided how long he will continue in the big show, but his mind is made up that he will not give up baseball any time soon.

"I'll probably be like the rest of them," he said with a smile. "Baseball is hard to get away from. I probably won't try to pitch much more, but the chances are that I'll be connected with a ball club as long as I am able to put on a uniform."

Washington Fans To Honor Johnson

Famous Hurler Will Pitch Against Detroit The Same Club He Worked Against In His First Major League Contest.

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP).—Walter Johnson, famous pitcher of the Washington Senators, and an idol of America's national sport, today completes his twentieth year of major league baseball.

Before a host of the national Capital's fans who were expected to the Griffith Stadium to fill capacity, the Old Master as Johnson is known among major league players, prepared to celebrate the anniversary by pitching against the Detroit Tigers, the first opponents of his career.

Washington's baseball fandom and the leading officials of the American league planned to mark Johnson's record with a celebration and tribute such as has been rarely accorded a player. Today was "Johnson Day" at the Griffith Stadium and the tall veteran moundman alone was to be the recipient of the fans' plaudits.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Atlantic City—Bigger and better protection for the boardwalk is urged by a section of the Chamber of Commerce which criticizes the presence on that promenade of "too many patrolmen of the Mutt and Jeff variety."

Lake George—Add what-of-it records. Swimming with one leg tied to a towrope, Harold Chasen pulled eight boats loaded with campers around a three mile course.

New York—There's gloom in the reptile division offices of the Bronx Zoo. The first egg laid in 23 years by Mrs. Buster, prize Galapagos turtle, has proven a dud after eight weeks' intensive artificial incubation.

Chicago—A sweet suit is faced by the Rock Island Railroad. An apurist claims $50,000 as the value of some 70,000,000 honeybees lost in transit, three tons of moist sugar fed the survivors and 170,000 pounds of honey which the deceased would have produced.

Washington—Careless correspondents should sheer wide of the map. A retired lieutenant colonel will be court martialed for failing to reply to letters from headquarters.

Piggot, Ark.—"I just preached too strong for them," is the explanation of Miss Garnett Gunter, 21-year-old preacher, for her resignation from the First Christian Church. She has occupied a pulpit since she was 15.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, Aug. 1—The fair held in the K. of P. hall last Wednesday evening was a success, financially and socially. The members of the Ladies' Aid under whose direction the fair was given, feel very grateful to the summer residents of Kyserike for their kind interest and also to the K. of P. members who so kindly gave the use of their hall.

Miss Cornelia Lounsbury spent the week end with Mrs. Mary Schoonmaker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith are having a new porch built on their residence.

Miss Birdella Krom of Kingston spent the week end with friends in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Steen of Mohonk Lake were at his father's over week end.

Mr. Paffen preached an excellent sermon Sunday afternoon from the text, "Whereas the Law came by Moses, Grace and Truth Came by Jesus Christ." A very cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services held every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, standard time.

Miss Helen Garrison is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Barnhart in Waterbury, Conn.

The principle of high compression is readily understood. The tighter you pack the powder charge in a muzzle loading gun, the greater the force given the bullet. Similarly, the tighter gasoline vapor and air are packed or compressed in the combustion chamber (the space between the head of the cylinder and the top of the piston) before ignition, the greater the power derived from the explosion.

Increasing compression therefore simply means decreasing the size of the combustion space, which may be accomplished mechanically or through the formation of carbon.

In terms of you and your car, higher compression means a more powerful and flexible car. In short, a performance impossible with lower compression and the use of ordinary gasoline.

Choosing Queen Of the Catskills

"Catskill Mountains" To Be Chosen in Beauty Contest at Stamford, N. Y., Aug. 2 (Special)

A young woman in the Catskill section is invited to enter the Beauty Contest to be held at Stamford, N. Y., August 2, to determine the winner of the crown, "Miss Catskill Mountains." It was announced today that there will be a large number of contestants, including young men and women, and the total awards amounting to several hundred dollars.

The young woman chosen Queen at Stamford will be entertained following the selection as guest of honor for the week end at Church Hill Hall, large of the hotels in the western Catskills, at the invitation of H. H. Mase, managing director of Church Hill Hall and Remere Club hotels. The public will be given an opportunity to see the judging at the Remere Club Swimming Pool, and it is expected the various candidates from all over the state will be well backed. The honor will mean great distinction to the recipient as well as the fact that she will represent the Catskills in the selection of the Motion picture and newspaper. The judges have already applied to make pictures of the revue at the Remere Casino. The judges have selected because of their intelligence and standing in the community, including all possibility of favoritism.

Ott to Conduct Contest. Alexander Ott, of Opa-locka, Florida, who has made these events popular in the South, is conducting the contest. In the selection of "Miss Catskill" last winter at the Opa-locka Casino, Ott witnessed the event. Mr. Ott is the director of water sports at the Remere Club Casino, where the choice of the "Queen" will take part. The seating capacity is to be enlarged for the revue. It is expected a great many visitors will be attracted to Stamford for the event.

Entrants From Seven Counties. The territory from which entrants are entitled to compete was a problem, but it was finally decided to restrict competition to seven counties, as follows: Delaware, Otsego, Schoharie, Albany, Greene, Rensselaer and Sullivan.

Applicants must be between the ages of 16 and 35, of good character, must not be what is known as a "professional beauty," such as a model, show girl, etc. All entrants should present themselves at the pool at 2:30 on the day of the contest, to be in readiness for the selection and the judging.

Baby Parade August 20. A baby parade to find the most perfect baby in the same region of the Catskills will be conducted by Ott, August 20. Eminent physicians will act as judges under the rules as when Jackie Ott, seven old son of Alexander Ott, was the most perfect baby against thousands of competitors. Jackie is at the Remere Casino entertaining the summer colony with his fancy diving and swimming.

Severe Storm at Binghamton. Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—A miniature cloudburst swept through the outskirts of Binghamton last night, doing much damage at Corbettaville and vicinity. Four to six inches of water fell in half an hour turning hillside highways into raging torrents, sweeping away small outbuildings, and causing small streams to overflow their banks. The cloudburst is said to have covered a space about a mile square.

One More Week At Camp Wendy

Last Encampment Begins August 8—Girl Scouts Find Many Ways to Learn Useful Things as Well as Gain Health by Outdoor Sports.

If there are any Girl Scouts in Ulster county, including Kingston city, who have not yet had a good time at Camp Wendy, near Wallkill village, they still have a chance to go to the camp. The last encampment for this season will begin August 8, and last one week, and there will be room for several more girls than have registered yet. Applications for the week ends August 6 or 13, or for the last encampment should be sent immediately to Miss Mabel Shannon, Camp Director, Camp Wendy, Wallkill, N. Y.

Thanks to the vital and material interest of Girl Scout Commissioner Mrs. G. E. Halliday of Wallkill, Camp Wendy is just about as ideal a place for a group of girls to spend part of their vacation as could be imagined. It was most attractive when a Freeman reporter arrived at camp in a hard rain, and its attractiveness was increased manifold when the sun came out. The camp is situated on a large tract of beautifully wooded meadow land with pretty Elwood Lake, where the girls can safely swim as part of the camp grounds. On the higher points are situated the six well built shacks, each housing twelve Scouts, the six well-furnished tents occupied by the directors and counselors, with one tent especially for the two excellent cooks.

The camp also boasts a hospital tent, fully equipped for first aid or any ordinary disability, a substantial ice house and a sanitary incineration plant.

Riding, Boating and Swimming.

The loan from the commissioner of a good safe saddle horse, makes horsemanship possible, and the further loan of an exceptionally good canoe, together with the possession of a first-class row boat, adds to the pleasures of the camp.

Today swimming is so much in the lime light that parents of Girl Scouts will be glad to know that in attending Camp Wendy their daughters will have not only excellent training and supervision in swimming given by Miss Atrude Yerva, formerly of the Kingston Y. W. C. A. and her sister, Miss Barbara Yerva but there is a well arranged and perfectly safe "crib" at one point in the lake, with sand bottom, where beginners and junior swimmers must take their water exercise.

More Ways To Win Trophies.

Of course any Girl Scout wants to be doing things that will make her a more and more proficient Scout and enable her to win additional trophies. There are classes in Junior and Senior Life Saving under the Yerva Sisters, Miss Atrude having a Red Cross certificate as trainer. Other classes under special counselors teach the girls pioneering, athletics, leather craft, jig-saw work, dramatics, horsemanship, rowing and canoeing and nature studies in various branches.

Various kinds of hikes, supper hikes, over-night hikes, treasure hunts, etc., are enjoyed. After supper there are games until eight o'clock standard time, then camp fire for an hour. Just at the time of the visit to Camp Wendy, the dramatics class were preparing a pantomime to be given next Saturday evening. It is entitled "The Happy Prince," and promises to be both thrilling and entertaining.

"Peter Pan" is Popular.

One of the best-loved features of Camp Wendy has been left to the last of this report. It is known as "Peter Pan," and is the big mess hall first used this year. Being Peter Pan, there is a big stone chimney at one end, and for entertainments and parties, the tables are set back and the entire hall is used. There is a piano, a phonograph and victrola so there can be excellent music for dancing and singing, etc.

Peter Pan looked most attractive when inspected with the tables for between fifty and sixty people, set up, each having a pretty centerpiece of wild flowers well arranged. At the year of this building is the remarkably well equipped kitchen provided over by two excellent cooks as the guests had occasion to know by the good supper served them early in order that they might get back to Kingston before dark. There is also a small canteen where only five cents for sweets may be spent by any girl in any one day.

Camp Wendy is fortunate in having Miss Shannon as its director, and she is ably assisted by counselors, a real nurse and others, all of whom share the honors of the girls' affection.

And a more wholesome, happy, good-looking bunch of wide-awake girls could not be found anywhere than is to be found now at Camp Wendy.

News of the Day In Wall Street

(By The Associated Press)

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—The current "bull" market is now in its fourth year. While there is some difference of opinion as to when it actually began, the upward movement reached its stride prior to the election of President Coolidge in 1921. Both the rails and industrial averages closed last night at record high levels. The average of 20 leading rails, compiled daily by the Associated Press, touched 143.95, as against a low of 125.58 this year and 102.47 on January 1, 1925. The average of 20 leading industrials mounted yesterday to 168.47 as against the year's low of 111.23 and an average of 120.82 on January 1, 1925.

Frank G. Shattuck, Inc., owner of the chain of Schrafft's candy stores, had a net income of $459,085 for the quarter ending June 30, equivalent to $1.50 per share of common stock, as compared with $1.90 7/8 or $1.30 per share for the same period of 1926. The net income for six months is reported as $840,815 or $2.80 per share, as compared with $707,100, or $2.35 per share last year.

An average daily production of 2,587,105 barrels of crude oil daily for the week ended July 20 set a new high, says the Oil and Gas Journal. Light oil also reached a new high with an average production of 2,101,581 barrels daily.

Good Business In the Catskills

The month of August will undoubtedly be the harvest period for the Catskill mountain summer resorts as the Rip Van Winkle area now being populated by thousands of vacationists from the cities where the recent spell of hot weather has made living rather uncomfortable. The transportation industry will also share in the season of plenty for although many travel by automobile the majority use public conveyances.

Saturday and Sunday marked the high point of the influx of summer boarders. During the two days 3,000 people passed through Catskill, it is estimated. Arrivals on the Day Line Steamer Saturday afternoon totaled 1,500 while on Sunday 1,100 landed from the river steamer. The New York Central and the West Shore railroads also shared in flooding the Catskills with vacationists.

The crowds which surged from the Day Line boat soon were on their way to the mountain resorts as the vacationists had plans completed for their stay in the Catskills. Summer visitors who had no arrangements scheduled soon found refuge where representatives of hostilities appeared with conveniences.

Automobile traffic on the highway from New York to Albany is very heavy and the excessive rainfall of Sunday had little or no effect upon motor vehicle traffic.
